WELCOME!

Whether you're traveling to Egypt, making Egyptian friends, talking with family, or simply curious about the language, this book will help you speak the Egyptian Arabic people actually use every day.

Unlike traditional textbooks, you'll learn practical vocabulary, natural expressions, and authentic pronunciation that you'll hear in real conversations across Egypt.

Discover the customs, traditions, and expressions that make Egyptian Arabic unique and help you connect beyond the language.

Why This Book?

Most Arabic books teach words you'll rarely use. This one focuses on real Egyptian Arabic—the words and phrases you'll actually hear every day.

This Book is organized by topics. Instead of alphabetical order, vocabulary is grouped by real-life situations...making it easier to remember.

Each word includes Arabic script, English meaning, Example sentence, Native pronunciation (QR code on each chapter cover).

How to use the book?

1 Learn The Alphabet

Start with the Egyptian Arabic Alphabet and Egyptian Arabic sounds, these sections will help you recognize Arabic letters and pronounce them correctly, giving you a strong foundation before learning vocabulary.

2 Master The Franco Arabic Guide

Read the Franco Arabic guide. You'll learn how Arabic words are written using English letters and numbers (such as 3, 7, and 2), making it much easier to read and pronounce the words correctly.

3 Understand The Basics

If you are new to Arabic, we recommend reading the Basic Grammar section before moving on. It introduces the essensial grammar you'll need to understand sentences structure and how Egyptian Arabic works.

4 Learn what interests you

Now you're ready to explore! Browse the vocabulary chapter in any order and start with the topics that interests you most. Learning words you'll actually use makes studying more enjoyable and helps you remember them better.

How to use the book?

5

Listen to native pronuncation

Every chapter includes a QR code that takes you to a page containing the pronuncation of every word and its examples sentence. Listen carefully and repeat eah word aloud to improve your speaking and listening skills.

6

Use the language every day

The fastest way to improve is to use the words you've learned in real conversations. Try speaking with friends, writing short sentences, or thinking in Egyptian Arabic throughout your day. The more you use the language, the faster you'll build confidence and fluency.

Arabic Alphabet

This section introduces you to the Egyptian Arabic alphabet and the essential concepts you need before learning your first words. Unlike English, Arabic follows its own writing system, but once you understand a few simple rules, reading and writing become much easier.

28 LETTERS

The Arabic alphabet has 28 letters. Each letter has one basic identity, but its appearance can change depending on where it appears in a word.

RIGHT TO LEFT

Arabic is written and read from right to left, the opposite direction of English. As you practice, reading this direction will quickly become natural.

NO CAPITAL LETTERS

Arabic does not use uppercase and lowercase letters. Every letter is written in the same style regardless of its position in a sentence.

DIFFERENT SOUNDS

Some Arabic letters have sounds that don't exist in English. every letter in this book includes pronunciation help, and you can scan the QR codes to hear native Egyptian pronunciation.

Short Vowels

Arabic uses small pronunciation marks called Harakat to show short vowel sounds. In everyday Egyptian Arabic, these marks are usually omitted, because native speakers already know how words are pronounced from context. You'll mostly see them in the Qur'an, children's books, dictionaries, and educational materials.

1. Fatha

Pronunciation : a بَ ba

2. Kasra

Pronunciation : i

بِ bi

3. Damma

Pronunciation : u

بُ

bu

4. Sukon

Pronunciation : no vowel

بْ

b

5. Shadda

Pronunciation : doubled sound

بّ

bb

NUNATION (Tanween)

Tanween is a special pronunciation mark that adds an "n" sound to the end of a word.
Unlike regular short vowels, Tanween is mainly found in Modern Standard Arabic (MSA) rather than everyday Egyptian Arabic. However, you'll still see it in a few very common expressions, such as شكرًا (shokran).

The Three types of Tanween

1. Tanween Fath

ـًا

Pronunciation

-an

Example

شكرًا shokran

thank you

2. Tanween kasr

ـٍ

Pronunciation

-in

Example

كتابٍ kitabin

a book

2. Tanween damm

ـٌ

Pronunciation

-un

Example

كتابٌ kitabun

a book

GOOD TO KNOW

In everyday Egyptian Arabic, Tamween is rarely used.
You'll mostly encounter it in:

- Formal Arabic (MSA)
- Books
- Newspapers
- The Quran
- Religious and educational texts

The most common exception is words like:
شكرًا (shokran "thank you") and جدًا (geddan "very"), where Tanween has become part of the standard spelling.

Franco Arabic

Franco Arabic is the way of writing Arabic using the English alphabet and numbers. it became popular before Arabic keyboards were widely available, and today it's still commonly used in text messages, social media, gaming, and online chats.

Examples

Arabic	Franco	English
السلام عليكم	el salam 3alaykom	peace be upon you
حلويّات	7alayyat	Desserts
شكرًا	shokran	Thank you

GOOD TO KNOW

There is no official standard for Franco Arabic. Different people may spell the same word differently. Throughout this book, we use one consistent style to make learning easier

Franco Arabic

In Franco Arabic, some numbers are used to represent Arabic letters that don't exist in English. Here are the most common ones you'll see:

Franco Arabic

Some Arabic sound are written using two (or more) English letters together. These combination help you read words more naturally.

combination	represents	sound	example
sh	ش	sh (like in shoe)	Shokran thank you
kh	خ	kh	Khalas enough
gh	غ	gh	Ghaly expensive
th	ث	th (like in “think”)	thanya a second
th	ذ	th (like in “this”)	thaki/zaki smart
aa	ا	long a (like in “father”)	Salaam goodbye
oo	و	long o (like in “moon”)	Noor light
ee	ي	long e (like in “see”)	Kbeer big

Basic Grammar

Before you dive intro the dictionary, it's helpful to understand a few basic grammer concepts. The good good news is that Egyptian Arabic grammar is more straightforward than many other languages. These simple rules will help you understand the example sentences throughout this book.

1 Sentence Structure

In everyday Egyptian Arabic, the most common sentence order is the same as English:

Subject + Verb + Object

I eat bread	→	أنا باكل عيش ana bakol 3esh

Although Arabic can use different word orders in some situations, you'll find this pattern in most everyday conversation.

2 No Verb "To Be"

One of the biggest differences between English and Egyptian Arabic is that the verb "to be" (am, is, are) is usually omitted in the present tense.

I am happy	→	أنا مبسوط ana mabsoot Literally: I happy
She is a doctor	→	هى دكتورة heyya doctora Literally: She doctor

3 Asking Questions

Most yes/no questions are formed simply by changing your tone of voice, no extra word order is needed.

Statment You are tired.	إنت تعبان. enta ta3ban.
↓
Question Are you tired?	إنت تعبان؟ enta ta3ban?

ها	+	كتاب
نا	+	كتاب
هُم	+	كتاب
كُم	+	كتاب

Basic Grammar

In Egyptian Arabic, verbs are usually easy to recognize, and we use simple patterns for the present tense and for making negative sentences. Let's look at the basics.

Present Tense

In Egyptian Arabic, we usually add ب (b-) before the verb in the present tense.

Fosha		Egyptian
أكتب	→	بكتب
aktob (I write)		baktib (I write)

Examples

I love you	أنا بحبّك	ana ba7ibbak
He eats	هو بياكل	howwa beyakol
She studies	هى بتذاكر	heyyia bitzaker
We work	إحنا بنشتغل	e7na bineshtaghal

Negation

To make a verb negative in Egyptian Arabic, we put ما (ma) before the verb and ش (sh) after it. it becomes ما....ش (ma....sh).

ما + الفعل + ش
ma the verb sh

There is another way of making the verb negative by adding the word مش (mesh) before the verb.

مش + الفعل mesh the verb

affirmation	negative	meaning
بحب	مابحبش	I don't love
بعرف	مابعرفش	I don't know
بفهم	مابفهمش	I don't understand
بقدر	مابقدرش	I can't
عايز	مش عايز	I don't want
بعرف	مش بعرف	I can't

Basic Grammar

1 Masculine & Feminine

Most nouns have a masculine and feminine form. In Egyptian Arabic, feminine nouns often (not always) end with the letter ة (ta marbotta) which add an “a” sound to the noun, and here are some examples:

masciline	feminine	franco	English
طالب	طالبة	talib taliba	student
مدرس	مدرسة	modarris modarrisa	teacher
دكتور	دكتورة	doctoor doctoora	doctor
مهندس	مهندسة	mohandis mohandisa	engineer

2 Plurals

Many Arabic plurals are irregular. It's best to learn them as vocabulary.

singular	plural	franco	English
كتاب	كتب	kitab kotob	book
ولد	ولاد	walad wilaad	boy
بنت	بنات	bint bnaat	girl
بيت	بيوت	beet beyoot	house

Final Tip : You don't need to memorize every grammar rule to speak Egyptian Arabic. The fastest way to improve is by learning words and reading example sentences. As you use the language, the grammar will begin to feel natural!
